The Songs of Richard Rodgers

The most accomplished composer in the history of the American musical theatre was Richard Rodgers (1902-1979), with a professional career on Broadway that spanned more than 50 years. In an edition designed especially for singers, 45 songs have been carefully chosen from both the Rodgers & Hart and Rodgers & Hammerstein output. The accompaniments support the singer, rather than including the melody in the piano part throughout, as in the standard sheet music editions of these songs. Most of these songs are transposed for the first time ever in this new collection. Contents: Bewitched • Climb Ev'ry Mountain • Do I Love You Because You're Beautiful? • Edelweiss • Falling in Love with Love • Hello, Young Lovers • I Could Write a Book • I Didn't Know What Time It Was • I Have Dreamed • I Wish I Were in Love Again • If I Loved You • Isn't It Romantic? • It Might As Well Be Spring • It Never Entered My Mind • The Lady Is a Tramp • Love, Look Away • Manhattan • My Favorite Things • My Funny Valentine • My Heart Stood Still • My Lord and Master (high voice only) • My Romance • No Other Love • Nobody's Heart • Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin' • People Will Say We're in Love • Soliloquy (low voice only) • Some Enchanted Evening • Something Wonderful • The Sound of Music • The Surrey with the Fringe on Top • The Sweetest Sounds • Ten Cents a Dance • There's a Small Hotel • This Can't Be Love • This Nearly Was Mine • Thou Swell • To Keep My Love Alive • Where or When • With a Song in My Heart • A Wonderful Guy • You Are Never Away • You Took Advantage of Me • You'll Never Walk Alone • You're Nearer • Younger Than Springtime. The Complete Voice & Speech Workout: 75
Exercises for Classroom and Studio Use
Applause Books
Book & CD Package

Potent and empowering voice exercises by the master teachers who devised them! One of the constants that any actor, director or theatre teacher needs is a strong vocal warmup. This valuable, first-of-its-kind resource contains 75 exercises for both solo and group work, contributed by some of the best professionals in the world. There is a brief description of the history and purpose of each exercise followed by the exercise itself. The Voice & Speech Workout comes with a training CD that will be especially helpful to the student or theatre professional working alone. Here master teachers run through each exercise in real time (leaving enough time for response). Among the contributors are such important voice teachers as: Frankie Armstrong, Mary Corrigan, Marian Hampton and Dorothy Runk Mennen. The exercises are divided into nine different areas: Getting to Know Your Voice; Stretching, Centering, Releasing, Aligning; Breathing and Supporting; Making Sound (Resonance and Articulation); Exploring Pitch; Projecting and Calling; Integrating Voice, Breath and Text; Integrating Voice and Movement; Exploring Character Voices and Dialects. Editor Janet Rodgers is past president of the Voice and Speech Trainers Association and an associate professor of theatre at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II

This volume, edited by William Hammerstein, encompasses lyrics from Oscar Hammerstein's entire canon; from the early 'Indian Love Call' written in 1924 with Otto Harbach and Rudolph Friml, to his final song, 'Edelweiss,' written with his long-time collaborator Richard Rodgers in 1959. Oscar Hammerstein's introduction, Notes On Lyrics, has been an acknowledged classic text for musical theatre enthusiasts since 1949 and remains a definitive work today. To say Oscar Hammerstein II made a significant contribution to the art of lyric-writing is understating the case. He, with his lyrics, and his collaborators, with their music, reweave the fabric of the musical theatre for all time.

Music Copyright for the Millennium

by David J. Moser

Artistpro

The 21st century promises to be the greatest period of growth in musical expression the world has ever known, as new technologies have made it easier and less costly to produce and distribute creative works on a worldwide basis. Copyright law and the ownership of intellectual property will continue to be the lifeblood of the music industry and the source from which the income of musicians will be derived. This book will give you a thorough understanding of copyright law as it applies specifically to music. In an easy-to-understand style, it explains the relevant provisions of U.S. copyright law and demonstrates how they are used in the music industry. From the Statute of Anne in the early 18th century to recent lawsuits against MP3-swapping services, this is the most comprehensive guide to music copyright ever created. David J. Moser is an entertainment attorney who primarily represents music industry clients. He is also a professor in the Recording Industry program at Middle Tennessee State University, where he teaches courses in copyright law and music publishing. In addition, Moser has written articles on entertainment law for numerous publications, including Billboard and Entertainment Law & Finance. He lives in Nashville and is a member of the Copyright Society of the United States, the Tennessee Bar Association, and the American Bar Association.

At This Theatre: 100 Years of Broadway Shows, Stories and Stars
by Louis Botto with Robert Viagas
Applause Books
This is the ultimate backstage tour of Broadway! At This Theatre tells the complete history of Broadway in the 20th century, theatre by theatre. This gorgeous book is now updated, revised and with a larger format, covering 1900 to 2001. PLAYBILL's columnist, Louis Botto, along with Robert Viagas, opens the doors and lets readers explore the 40 active Broadway theatres in New York. From the conception and design of the buildings, to their original creators, and on to the theatres' transformation, often under duress, from legitimate houses to vaudeville and Burlesque, to movie houses and then back to their original purpose, this book captures the magical world of Broadway. It is a complete and authoritative history that only Botto, the curator of PLAYBILL's incomparable 116-year-old archives, can tell. Expanded from his popular column in PLAYBILL magazine, At This Theatre is the biography of those living, breathing buildings we call theatres. In this substantially updated version, Botto includes the histories of all the theatre rescued from the wrecker in the last ten years, including the American Airlines Theatre, Disney's New Amsterdam, and the Lyric and the Apollo, now combined into the Ford Center. At This Theatre is filled with great stories featuring a cast of characters including Ethel Merman, David Merrick, Katharine Hepburn, Humphrey Bogart and Spencer Tracy. And it's also a theatrical spectacle boasting lavish illustrations of posters, programs, and photographs throughout. This is the gift book for every theatre lover on your list, including yourself!

The Monologue Workshop: from Search to Discovery in Audition and Performance

by Jack Poggi
Applause Books

To those for whom the monologue has always been synonymous with terror, The Monologue Workshop will prove an indispensable ally. Jack Poggi's new book answers the long-felt need among actors for top-notch guidance in finding, rehearsing, and performing monologues. For those who find themselves groping for a speech just hours before their 'big break,' this book is their guide to salvation. The Monologue Workshop supplies the tools to discover new pieces before they become over-familiar, excavate older material that has been neglected, and adapt material from non-dramatic sources (novels, short stories, letters, diaries, autobiographies, even newspaper columns). There are also chapters on writing original monologues and creating solo performances in the style of Lily Tomlin and Eric Bogosian. Step by step, Poggi works with the actor in the rehearsal process, combining improvisation and textual analysis in the acclaimed technique that he has developed over thirty years of teaching. Besides the wealth of practical advice he offers, Poggi transforms the monologue experience from a terrifying ordeal into an exhilarating solo opportunity. Jack Poggi, as many working actors will attest, is the actor's partner in a process they had always thought was without one.

Speak with Distinction: The Classic Skinner Method to Speech on the Stage

by Edith Skinner
Applause Books

Widely recognized as the most complete and rigorous text of its kind since it was first published in 1942, Speak With Distinction is an invaluable resource. It presents a comprehensive study of the sounds of Spoken English in their most important phonetic environments. This most recent revision also adds much material for comparisons of speech sounds; suggestions for accurate, efficient and conversational ways of combining the sounds into connected utterance; indications that foster a working knowledge of two dialects of speech (General American and what Mrs. Skinner called Good Speech for classic and elevated texts); and beginning material to show application of the principles of Good Speech to well-written texts. Some important additions to the book are the extensive Glossary and Index, abundant guides to pronunciations, new sections featuring such details as the complete 'Ask-List' of words, a program for the elimination of glottal attacks of vowel and diphthong sounds, greatly expanded practice material of phrases and sentences, and an updated Chart showing several levels of phonetic transcription and spelling equivalents in current usage. Speak With Distinction can be used in several ways: as a primary educational textbook for both the beginning and advanced actor; as a supplementary textbook for teachers and students who have their own methods and agenda for study; and as a reference book for teachers, speech coaches and directors.

The Stanislavsky Technique: Russia – A Workbook for Actors

by Mel Gordon
Applause Books

It is virtually impossible to discuss modern acting or actor training without first mentioning the Russian theorist and director Konstantin Stanislavsky. Complete in one volume, Mel Gordon explores the actor training systems of Stanislavsky and his two most important disciples, Evgeni Vakhtangov and Michael Chekhov, tracing the major teachings and refinements over the first 50 years of use by actors. Gordon reconstructs the actual exercises taught at the Moscow Art Theatre and various Russian acting studios, and he clears away the myths and confusion about the practical use of Stanislavsky's System. This volume contains: The Stanislavsky System – First Studio Exercises 1912-1916; Vakhtangov as Rebel and Theoretician – Exercises 1919-1921; Michael Chekhov – Exercises 1919-1952; and Stanislavsky's Fourth Period – Theory of Physical Actions, 1934-1938.

A Star is Born: The Making of the 1954 Movie and Its 1983 Restoration

by Ronald Haver
Applause Books

'There is no book about Hollywood as riveting as this documentary.' – Allan Carr, Vanity Fair There is no question that the 1954 version of A STAR IS BORN holds a special place in the pantheon of classic movies. It was director George Cukor's first foray into musicals, his first color film, and it was, without a doubt, Judy Garland's greatest screen performance. With incredible detail and color, Ronald Haver gives us the fascinating story of the making, marketing and restoration of this groundbreaking classic. Here is how producer Sid Luft orchestrated the deal for his wife, how Cukor was selected to direct, how James Mason was cast to co-star and how Moss Hart's script was developed. Here are the myriad technical problems, the clashes of personalities and the shocking emotional ups and downs of the film's star. Here, finally, is the author's own mission to restore the film to its original length and glory in the 1980s.

Style: Acting in High Comedy

by Maria Aitken
Applause Books

This book isn't a critical examination of high comedy. Rather, it's a collection of suggestions for the middlemen: the actors who have to catch the comic spark from the playwright and pass it on to the audience. The effort involved must be imperceptible: one has to acquire the cleverness, the articulacy, the febrility of the characters – and then make the whole laborious exercise seem like swimming through silk...The characters in high comedies don't find verbal sophistication difficult or unfamiliar; they enjoy it as you might enjoy slang.

A Most Remarkable Fella: Frank Loesser and the Guys and Dolls in His Life: A Portrait by His Daughter

by Susan Loesser
Hal Leonard

Composer, lyricist and driving force behind such songs and stage productions as 'Heart and Soul,' 'Baby, It's Cold Outside,' 'Guys and Dolls' and 'The Most Happy Fella,' Frank Loesser left an indelible mark on American music. In this rich and revealing biography, his daughter profiles this prolific musical mastermind, piecing together her own memories with those of singers, songwriters, producers, friends and family members. The result is an accurate account of what it was like to know Frank Loesser: a very funny man with a fiery temper whose ferocious commitment to his art drove singers out of their minds – and to their best. David Merrick: The Abominable Showman – The Unauthorized Biography

by Howard Kissel
Applause Books

David Merrick is the most astonishing showman of our time, and perhaps of all time. No other producer, not even Florenz Ziegfeld nor the combined lights of the Shubert brothers, has equaled his percentage of hits or his demonic flair for publicity. In this first-ever biography, Howard Kissel from his decade-long investigation reveals the man, the mask, and the myth of David Merrick. The charismatic and reclusive mogul emerges as a Broadway version of Howard Hughes, with his own panoply of eccentricities, genius and neuroses. Merrick's much publicized and oftentimes staged battles and feuds are re-ignited here full force with such major personalities as Barbra Streisand, Jackie Gleason, Ethel Merman, Lena Horne, Woody Allen, Peter Ustinov, Andy Griffith, Anthony Newley, Peter Brook, and Carol Channing. Over a hundred interviews with the major players in Merrick's drama – from his pre-Merrick St. Louis childhood as David Margoulies to his latest divorce – has yielded the first serious interrogation of a life that until now has been the sole creation of Merrick's own invention and press wizardry.

USING RECORDED PERFORMANCES AND ACCOMPANIMENTS

Almost every singer has at some time uttered these words to an accompanist: "Could you record the piano part for me for practice?" Most of the time, these home recordings for practice are haphazardly done on very cheap equipment. The pianist may not make any effort to correct wrong notes. They might even stop playing to turn the page!

How much better, then, to have a professionally recorded accompaniment for practice?

As anyone who follows music publishing can tell, this trend to package vocal music with recordings, usually CDs, has grown tremendously in the last five years.

Our recordings were all made with the intent of aiding the singer and teacher in making vocal progress in learning literature. We make an effort, within a limited educational budget many times smaller than what is spent on record-label recordings, to create quality sound representations of music by experienced musicians and singers. For instance, Laura Ward, pianist on many of our classical recordings, is quite an experienced accompanying artist, with a master's degree in accompanying from Cincinnati Conservatory and a doctorate degree from the University of Michigan, where she was a student of Martin Katz.

Teachers guiding the use of recordings should keep a few things in mind. At the outset, have a conversation with the student about the nature of using pre-recorded accompaniments. The tempo, though it has been carefully chosen, is frozen. Likewise, breaks in the tempo, ritardandos, accelerandos, pauses are all predetermined. The student or singer might use the recording to learn the song, but then must think carefully to make his or her own, independent choices about individual tempos and changes of tempo. Regularly challenge your students to find their own interpretations, independent from the recordings.

If the recording includes a complete performance with a singer, the teacher or student view should be that the performance is not necessarily to be imitated. Remember, the intent is instructional. While we make every effort to record only quality singing, tastes in voices are highly subjective. Tell your students to listen to the singing as a guide in learning the music, not necessarily as a vocal timbre or interpretation to be imitated in great detail.

We have some vocal CDs that even have a full orchestra part recorded as an accompaniment. Imagine the luxury of it! No singer who has ever lived has had a resident orchestra to sing with at any time, day or night. Now that's possible through these CDs. Check out the Cantolopera series from Ricordi, or our own Orchestra Accompaniment Series.

We think that a CD that can be used for years for practice is quite a bargain, compared to hiring a professional accompanist for practice! The convenience of studying songs at any time, in the practice room, in the car, while traveling, while jogging, or while falling asleep at night, is priceless.

Publications are Hal Leonard unless noted. Book/CD packages unless noted.
